Academic English Preparation Winter 2026

Teacher: Erin Pettinger

Email: erin.pettinger@pattisonhighschool.ca

Classroom: Period 4 Room #114

Course Description

Academic English preparation is designed for students who have learned basic English grammar patterns and vocabulary and are now ready to improve upon English language structures to prepare themselves for the expectations of credited classes. Through higher level grammar structures, reading comprehension techniques and free writing strategies, it is hoped that students will finish the following stages of their English language development. The class will further focus on enhancing speaking, listening, and vocabulary-building skills. Throughout the course, students will actively practice these skills in every lesson, culminating in a daily homework and vocabulary quizzes. Each lesson incorporates activities that foster critical thinking and soft skills, aiming to empower students for academic success. Over the semester students will complete several collaborative projects focusing on digital skills, academic skills, collaboration and intercultural awareness.

Course Overview Big Ideas

Language Development through Meaningful Contexts: Provide higher level opportunities for language learning within meaningful contexts. Engage students in real-life tasks and authentic communication situations where they can practice using English in practical and relevant ways.	Language Production and Interaction: Create opportunities for ELL students to actively engage in speaking, listening, reading, and writing activities. Encourage students to go beyond simple communicative tasks to master higher level and more complex language situations. Opportunities for peer collaboration and language practice.	Feedback and Assessment: Provide timely and constructive feedback to ELL students to support their language development. Use a variety of assessment methods, including formative and summative assessments, to monitor student progress and adjust instruction accordingly.
